COMMENTARY

The Personal Trust Equity Fund maintains a long-term thematic focus; positioned to reflect ALSI sector weightings and to benefit from identified thematic impacts. Again, a volatile quarter saw investors preferring safe-haven assets such as DM bonds. However, the potential of co-ordinated global Central Bank stimulus may well support markets, despite continued Tariff Wars; another Brexit twist; SA's continued poor fiscal metrics and potential Sovereign Debt downgrade. We expect episodic volatility in markets to remain elevated until there is a resolution of the trade dispute. And maintain the view that the US and the global economy are not on the brink of recession. Beside Yield Curve inversion remember that we need confirmation of a pending US recession from the job market i.e. that the 3-month moving average of the unemployment rate has risen by more than one third of a percentage point.

Local markets reflected the pull-back in global risk appetite, which affected most EMs. Changes to portfolio weightings in the quarter were minimal and saw a reduction in the Impala weighting. The cash holdings predominantly retained in the Money Market, until the global market looks through current geo-political events; the yield curve inversion and irrational investor sentiment subsides.

The Fund YTD has returned +7.37% vs ALSI + 6.88%. While the JSE All Share Index saw further declines with the monthly Sector performance negative for August; that has seen the Top 40 decline by -2.6% with retailers -5.1% and banks -3.5%. Golds have rallied over +29% and platinum stocks +13.5% for the month; leaving USD/ZAR at 15.20 at month-end. The Fund and the top ten holdings still reflect the investment philosophy which favours high quality, highly liquid companies with consistent long-term track records; the guiding principles of the Investment Councils agreed investment process.

A Fund of Funds portfolio will invest in portfolios that levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund of Funds. In both instances, the charges levied by the portfolios of collective investment schemes into which the Fund invests are reflected in the Total Expense Ratio. A portfolio can invest in foreign securities which may have exposure to potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. A Higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Financial Product and impacts the Financial Product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time, including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
